program history. The Ravens made New Hampshire history over the weekend as it hosted Post University for a four-game weekend series at Dr. Pappas Field. It is believed to be the earliest baseball has been played in the State of New Hampshire and is confirmed as the earliest college baseball games. The Ravens bats heated up the 30-degree weather over the weekend, outscoring Post a combined 52-2. Franklin Pierce registered 52 hits, including 26 for extra bases. The Ravens belted 12 doubles, ten home runs (including five in the fourth game) and four triples for the weekend. Four Ravens hit .500 or better and six hit over .400. Franklin Pierce's pitching staff helped the cause by silencing the Post offense all weekend, posting three shutouts (0.64 ERA) and limiting the Eagles to just 16 hits, including just one extra base hit, and struck out 27 over the four games. The Ravens four starting pitchers did not yield a run in 19 innings of work, scattering ten hits with 19 strikeouts. The Ravens also committed just one error in the field all weekend (.992 team fielding percentage). Junior Vinny Pennell (Spencer, Mass.) belted two home runs over the weekend, just his second and third of his career and first since his freshman year in the ECAC Tournament. Frankin Pierce has scored in its first at bat in six of its seven games this season (5-1 record) and 12-of-14 dating back to last year. The Ravens have outscored its first two opponents by a combined 55-11 over the first four innings this season, including 30-3 in the first two frames.
