Weekly Notes:

BENTLEY: Senior forward Nate Fritsch (Durham, N.C.) became the 27th player in the program's history to reach the 1,200 career point plateau. Bentley, which has maintained the number one ranking in Division II since Nov. 27, has now won its last 43 regular season games and its last 26 home games.

PACE: Senior Ryan Williams, who became the Setters all-time leader in three-pointers earlier this season against American International, netted his 300th career three-pointer against Saint Rose. The Setters currently have three players with over 1,000 career points with Ryan Williams (1,654), Desmond Quincy-Jones (1,101) and Gibraltar White (1,047). The last time Pace had three players with 1,000 career points on the same team was in 1990-91 with Bert Brisbane, Craig Crichlow and Chris Brown.

SAINT MICHAEL'S: Senior co-captain James Sorrentine set the all-time program record at Saint Michael's for three-pointers made in a career (306) after shooting 7-of-13 from long range against UMass Lowell. Now with 1,278 career points, Sorrentine also holds school records in three-pointers attempted in a career (777) and foul shooting percentage (11-11) in a game, all set this season.
